

Sec. 6. Effective date

Section 6(a) of the bill provides that it shall be immediately effective upon enactment, with several exceptions.

Existing trading facilities. The first exception applies to existing trading facilities. Section 6(b) provides that a trading facility operating under the exemption in CEA section 2(h)(3) on the date of enactment shall have 180 days after the Commission issues a final rule on registration applications to submit such an application. Section 5 of the bill authorizes the Commission to take 270 days to issue this rule. During this period (270 days plus 180 days), the prohibition on trading in the new section 2(j)(1) shall not apply. For any such facility in operation on the date of enactment of this Act that submits an application to the Commission for operation as an energy trading facility within the 180-day period, the suspension of the prohibition in section 2(j)(1) is extended until the Commission makes a determination on whether to approve that application.

Subsection (c) provides that if the Commission approves the registration as an energy trading facility of a facility operating under the exemption under CEA section 2(h)(3) on the date of enactment of this Act, the facility may submit a written request to the Commission for a 6-month extension to fully implement any requirement made applicable by this Act—other than an information reporting or recordkeeping requirement—and that the Commission shall grant any such request. The Commission, in its discretion, may grant an additional 6-month extension. The Commission may not grant any extension for any information reporting or recordkeeping requirement. This section is intended to ensure that facilities currently in operation that must register as an energy trading facility will have sufficient time to come into compliance with the new requirements of this Act, and that the operations of those facilities will not be disrupted during the transition period. Altogether, this section effectively provides existing trading facilities with over two years to come into compliance with the Act.

Requirements applicable to domestic use of a foreign board of trade. Section 6(d) of the bill states that the reporting requirements applicable to trades from domestic terminals on a foreign board of trade are effective 180 days after enactment.
